WORK OF CONGRESS.

Border Troubles.

MARFA (Tex.), Aug. 5.—The news was brought in by the foreman of the mines at Shafter of the ambushing by Mexicans of a party of miners, rangers and Deputy Sheriffs yesterday. Graves, a ranger, was instantly killed, and a Deputy Sheriff and Deputy Marshal were seriously wounded. The fire was returned, and it is believed one Mexican was killed and several wounded. The miners and rangers have about 100 Mexicans surrounded, and are guarding them until further assistance can get to them, when they will pick out those connected with the shooting and bring them to Marfa for safe-keeping. The trouble is said to have come from the lynching of a Mexican some months ago.

Did Not Care to Vote.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—The Senate met at 10 o'clock, and immediately proceeded to the consideration of the Tariff bill, the pending item being a paragraph relating to "cylinder and crown glass polished."

Berry addressed the Senate on the general subject of tariff legislation. He denied the correctness of Hisscock's assertion that the question had been finally settled at the last Presidential election. The majority of the American people had not then declared in favor of the protection theory, but rather in favor of the party that advocated a tariff for revenue only. Sooner or later right would prevail, and then, but not until then, could it be said that the question has finally been settled. Under the wise, prudent and patriotic administration of Grover Cleveland the surplus in the Treasury had accumulated; but now, at the close of a session of Congress under a Republican administration, the question was how to guard against a deficiency; and yet, instead of meeting that deficiency in a way somewhat just, instead of imposing an income on the wealthier classes, it was proposed to add to the burdens that were borne by the poor.

Copper Syndicate Swindlers.

By Cable and Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 5.—The Appeal Court affirms the sentence of six months imprisonment imposed on Secretan for connection with the questionable operations of the recent copper syndicate, but reduced the fine of 10,000 francs to 3,000. The Court rescinded the sentence of three months imprisonment imposed upon Livciassiere, but sustained the decision of the lower court finding him 600 francs.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

An Afflicted Family.

The GAZETTE learns that Mrs. Stewart and daughter Maybelle arrived in San Francisco from their Alaskan trip on Sunday morning. Since leaving Washington in June she has been accompanied by her friend Mrs. Louise Patterson of Washington. This morning Mrs. Patterson came up from San Francisco and went on from Carson, having in her charge Mrs. Stewart's grandchild, Bessie Romero, the daughter of the late Mrs. Romero, an account of whose sudden death in San Francisco last Friday, while on her way with her husband from Pekin to St. Petersburg, has been given in these columns. Mrs. Romero's funeral will take place in San Francisco upon the arrival of Senator Stewart there on Thursday, after which he and Mrs. Stewart are expected to go to Carson.

McKinley of Ohio, from the Committee on Rules, reported a substitute for the Cummings resolution, asking the Secretary of the Navy for a reason for an increase of the force at the Kittey Navy Yard.

Speaking of the resolution, Cummings of New York said he rose in defense of public morality and public law, which had been menaced by high officials. The order increasing the force of the Kittey Navy Yard looked as though the design was to use the executive power for partisan purposes. He referred to the great evil which would result from the introduction of politics into the navy yards, and going back to the administration of the Navy Department by Secretary Robeson, commented severely upon the action of that official in filling the navy yards with partisan friends just previous to a Congressional election. He charged that the Kittey yard was used for political purposes, and quoted figures to show that previous to elections the list of employees was much larger than it was a month or two afterwards. The majority of the men came from Maine, the State of Thomas Brackett Reed.

Convicted of Murder.

John Edwards was convicted at Oyster Bay, Wash., for the killing of the Frederickson's last January. The conviction was a surprise, and the belief is the Judge's failure to make a certain ruling will throw the case back for a new trial.

It will cleanse the liver, purify the blood and by its mild action, new vitality and strength to the entire system. Sold at 25 cents a box by S. J. Hodgkinson.

The World's Fair Bill Signed by Governor Fifer.

With Military Honors.

By Associated Press.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Elizabeth Sands, probably the oldest person in Baltimore, the last of the Old Defenders Association, died yesterday, 101 years of age. Mrs. Sands was born March 7, 1789. In 1805 she married Peter Smick, a jeweler, who joined the army to repel the British invaders in 1812. While in Annapolis he contracted fever, and his wife with four children went down to nurse him. She remained in camp, enduring all the privations of a soldier, and ministered to the wants of all the sick. Her husband never recovered, but even after his death she continued with the army as nurse. She was at the battle of North Point, and many a wounded soldier owed to her care his life. When the war ended she had not a dollar, and was compelled to sew to maintain her family.

In 1824 she married John Sands, but he died five years later, leaving her with two more children. Again she plied the needle, and was getting along nicely, when her daughter, who had married, died and left another family on her hands. These married again, and she took care of even the fourth generation. She has outlived all her children, the last to go being Peter Smick, who died six months ago at the age of 77. Of later years she spent her time making rag carpets. She was remarkably active, climbing the stairs twenty or thirty times a day. It is proposed to bury her with military honors.

Railroad Affairs.

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, Aug. 5.—General Traffic Manager Mellen of the Union Pacific is in town. He says the prospects of the Pacific & Texas, in connection with the Denver, Texas & Fort Worth, are very encouraging, and the Oregon Railway and Navigation line will have a large business, as the crops in Washington and Oregon are now harvested and are abundant. He says the prospects are poor for the corn crops in Kansas and Nebraska, and speaks in general terms of the immediate future for the new States of Idaho, Wyoming and Montana. The purchase of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad by the Atchison, he considers a very wise move. The silver legislation will be very beneficial for the territory covered by the Union Pacific.

Riotous Anarchists.

By Associated Press.

ELIZABETH (N. J.), Aug. 5.—A desperate fight occurred at a picnic of the Arbeiter Turn Verein at Eller's Grove last night, nearly a hundred men taking part in the fray. Six policemen were badly handled by the infuriated Anarchists, and during the riot an American flag, which floated from the staff at the entrance of the grounds, was torn down and trampled under foot. Warrants are out for a dozen of the rioters.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

THE coming Legislature will be the most important ever convened in this State. There will be matters to discuss of vital importance to the people, and the future prosperity of Nevada depends much upon the acts of the law-making power. It would not be wise for any county in the State to send disappointed office-seekers or the rabble, whose only ambition would be to canvass every proposition that came up, with the view of seeing what there was in it for them. We want to send our very best men—men with standing and character, whom we would be willing to trust our own business with. Our high-pressure laws will have to be toned down; some irrigation enactment will have to be passed; something should be done to give encouragement to another transcontinental line of railway; and, in fact, a general overhauling of our present system of doing business should be had. It will require talent of no mean order, and, above all, honesty of purpose, so be careful who you send.

SECRETARY STODDARD informs the GAZETTE that the outlook for the coming Fair is very bright, and that the exhibits in the several departments promise to be larger than ever before, so all we want to make the Fair a success in every particular is the people. President Gould is doing everything in his power and working night and day, and, with the co-operation of the citizens of Reno, will be able to give us a week's rare sport and a big crowd of people to enjoy it with us. It is of more benefit to Reno than any other place in the State, and the people should take interest enough to render President Gould and Secretary Stoddard all the assistance possible.

Between tales of Russian prison-life in Siberia and the suffering of Christians in Turkish jails there seems to be but little choice, but the latter would be the easier remedied. Only public opinion can be invoked among other peoples to change the Czar's domestic policy, but it would be easy enough to crowd the Turk out of Europe but for the bugbear of the balance of power. The Bulletin says it would also be easy for England and Austria to make humanity the condition of buttressing the Porte against Russian pressure.

RACING tea steamers have made the trip from Japan to New York in fifty-four days including stoppages at Chinese ports to complete cargoes. Under competition and with the better steamers which the passage of the Postage Subsidy bill would bring out tea could be landed in San Francisco from China and Japan in thirteen and twenty days, respectively. With just regulations regarding ocean and rail freights San Francisco ought to supply at least that part of the Union west of the Mississippi.

THE State Board of Trade sent a request throughout the State a few months ago for samples of our products in minerals, agriculture and horticulture, but thus far the Board has received nothing. It is their intention to make a display of our products at Reno and other places on the line of the Central Pacific, and also to make an exhibit at the State Fair. But the Board cannot do it without the assistance and co-operation of the people. If Nevada intends doing anything at the World's Fair it is high time that a move was made and samples sent to the Board of Trade.

SENATOR BLAIR is right enough to seek some method of expediting business in the Senate, but Morgan's interpolation regarding the time spent on the Educational bill must have taken the edge off his argument. Senator Blair is the man who talked his own bill to death. Perhaps that is why he now wants to limit debate. He wants to be saved from himself next time.

NEVADA is a thorn in the side of the Eastern people and the press east of the Rockies is frantic in its endeavors to have her annexed to something. They would wipe Nevada from the face of the earth if possible, but she is most too lively a corpse to be kicked about, and will yet put to the blush States with much larger pretensions. The sooner the people strike out for themselves and quit listening to the dictates of the men Nevada has made rich and taken up residences in California with no interest in common with this commonwealth, the sooner can be made to realize that Nevada is no longer to be despised. We have been milked quite long enough by the Shylocks, and it is high time we began to kick.

TRENTMORE COFFIN is said to have the inside track for the appointment of U. S. District Judge, with Congressman Bartine a good second. While Bartine is said to be pledged to Coffin, he (Bartine) would like to fall into the place if anything should transpire that would shut Coffin out.

JAY GOULD is said to have captured the Castle of Chapultepec, near the City of Mexico, for $6,000,000. It cost General Scott a great deal more than that to capture it in 1847, but this is the period of the money-power.

HON. William Woodburn, T. B. Rickey, C. C. Powning, Archie McDonald and R. K. Colcord are willing to sacrifice their private interests to serve the people in the capacity of Governor for the next four years.

BUDDHISM IN PARIS.

It Has Thirty Thousand Disciples and Its Feature Is Fanaticism.

It was recently stated that extraordinary progress was being made by Buddhist doctrines in Vienna and other towns of central Europe, says the London Telegraph. It is now said that a decided move in this direction is taking place in Paris. This phenomenon is probably to be accounted for by the fact that people who have discarded Christianity find themselves unable to get on after a time without some kind of religion or philosophy, and so turn their attention to any new thing in the hope of filling up the vacuum. M. Leon de Rosny, one of the most popular of the Sorbonne professors, has been lecturing recently on Buddhism, and he says he could never have imagined that it could have taken root in France as it has done. He is of opinion that the growing favor in which it is held is due to the fact that, far from being in conflict with modern science, it really contains the principles of the truths expounded by our saviors. Its disciples are most enthusiastic, and, herein lies a danger for they complicate Buddha's pure philosophy with a variety of supernatural theories and dabble in spiritualism, hypnotism, and other uncanny practices in the forefront of which "magic" may be placed; but M. Leon de Rosny declares that the leaders of the movement deplore this diversion, which is at variance with Buddhist doctrines, and proclaim that they have absolutely nothing to do with the "occult sciences." He fears, however, that the most ridiculous extravagances will be indulged in, as no conception can be formed of the amount of fanaticism which is a special feature of the new school. Every day he receives visits from distinguished persons who affirm that they are thorough-going Buddhists, and one of them has just asserted that he has at least 30,000 coreligionists in Paris. The vice-president of the Academy of Medicine has entered their ranks, and the captain of a French frigate who returned from a cruise in Chinese waters lately says that one-third of his crew have embraced the doctrines of Buddha.

A GIGANTIC HAIL-STONE.

It Fell Near Salina, Kan., and Weighed Eighty Pounds.

A correspondent of a New York paper makes mention of a huge hail-stone which fell in Baltimore County, Md., which he says was beyond all proportions ever heard of before, and "which must have weighed as much as three pounds." If "Felix," the correspondent above mentioned, will write to any prominent person in Salina, Kan., he can learn the particulars concerning a half-stone that would dwindle his story into insignificance. The facts in the case are substantially as follows: In July, 1882, a party of railroad section men were at work seven miles west of Salina, when a terrific half-stone went over, compelling them to creep under their "dummy" car for safety. Martin Ellwood, the foreman, relates that near where they were at work many chunks of ice fell that would weigh from five to fifteen pounds, and that in returning towards Salina they saw many half-stones scattered about everywhere. When six miles out from town they found hundreds of them larger than a man's head, besides one enormous chunk which they estimated weighed at least eighty (80) pounds. This frigid reminder of the awful storm was loaded on the hand-car and taken to Salina, the combined strength of two men being required in the loading act. Near the mammoth eighty-pounder Mr. Ellwood discovered a half-stone in the shape of a cigar about one foot long and four inches in diameter. Upon arriving in town a wheelbarrow was secured and the big half-stone taken to W. J. Hager's store, where crowds of people visited it all afternoon. In the evening, after being on exhibition five hours, it measured 8x16x32 inches. "Felix" will please go to Kansas and consult the Jayhawkers before finding any more of the largest half-stones on record.

—McMullen—"Bogor, I'll never grow at a two-dollar poll-tax again. Ille's ivy Finchman in France has to pay twenty-five dollars a year. How's that for a tax?" Rounder—"Ain't you misin' Mac? It's only foreigners that are to be taxed that way." McMullen (scornfully)—"Well, if a Finchman isn't a furrier, what is he?"

Reminiscence of the Johnstown Flood.

Rev. H. L. Chapman, pastor of the M. E. Church, Johnstown, Pa., says: "Soon after the great flood, at a time when diarrhoea was quite prevalent I received a box of six dozen Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy sent me by the proprietors, at the suggestion of Hon. Wesley Redhead of Des Moines. As soon as it became known that I had the medicine for free distribution there began a great run on it, which continued until it was about all gone. Every one, so far as I heard from them, testified of its virtues declaring it the best medicine for the purpose they had ever used. Those who got it shared it around with their neighbors so that I am confident your generosity in sending it was productive of great good. We need not only our own and found it not only an excellent medicine for diarrhoea but for all kinds of pain and uneasiness in the stomach and bowels. It has been recommended as the best medicine known here for the diseases it is recommended for. In view of your sending such a large quantity for free distribution among poor people, I think you are entitled to this testimonial in its favor. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

"AN ORCHARD SCOURGE."

Professor Hillman Gives a Description of the Pest.
EDITOR GAZETTE: The article in last Friday's GAZETTE under the above title calls forth a few statements relative to the plant-lice, which are to be treated in Bulletin No. 11, soon to be issued from the Entomological Department of the Experiment Station.

The term "bug" is truly applicable to these minute pests, whose destructive ability lies in their great numbers, owing to the manner in which they feed, viz.: sucking the sap of the plant they infest through minute beaks, which they thrust through the bark to the tender tissues beneath. Thus it is that applications of remedies of a simply poisonous nature are likely to prove useless. The insect thrusts its beak through the poison, in which it may be standing knee-deep, and takes its meal in enjoyment, oblivious of its poisonous surroundings. It is in no way associated itself except in the case of the "woolly ophid" a form of plant louse, with the trunk of the tree, and hence the uselessness of white ash and lime applications. The insect confines its attention to the leaves and twigs of trees and plants, usually those young and most tender. Here they collect in countless numbers, pumping up the plant's nourishment from where it is most needed—the growing parts. The rapidity with which these insects multiply is astonishing, all the females producing their young alive so rapidly that the course of a few days will show a dozen or more little ones clustered about the mother louse.

Kerosene and tobacco each form a cheap and effectual remedy. Kerosene should be used in the form of a mechanical mixture or emulsion with water, brought about by the use of soap aided by heat; add two parts of kerosene to one part of a solution formed by boiling one-half pound of soap in a gallon of water. To this add twenty parts of cold water, and thoroughly mix before using. In the case of tobacco, thoroughly boil a double handful of refuse material and dilute the decoction to form ten gallons.

These remedies should be sprayed among the leaves so as to thoroughly wet their lower surfaces. A single application does not suffice with these pests; not all will be destroyed, and a few remaining will make good their loss in numbers in a few days. A large proportion of these insects are winged, and thus if all were destroyed, those remaining would soon start new colonies.

The woolly ophid, infesting the angles of twigs and injured spots on the bark of the apple and allied trees, may be disposed of in the same manner as the others.

HORSE THIEVEN.

Summary Punishment Recommended.
The Adin (Cal.) Argus says: We understand that about 150 head of horses have been stolen from Jesse D. Carr, of Clear Lake, this county, and several other stockmen report losses of horses and cattle in Klamath county, Or. The Klamath Star says: Nobody doubts that a regularly organized band of thieves is working the country and its environs, branding, roping and stamping. From careful and exhaustive inquiry into the matter we have drawn the conclusion that those gentlemen will soon get all the rope they need, and perhaps a few yards more. We don't like that style of justice, but what can the stockmen do? Arrest the thieves and an alibi, already cut and dried, will be presented, and the thieves released in an hour. Self-preservation being the first law of nature, the stockmen say they must put that law into effect or go to the wall.

A Treacherous Instructor.

Custom is a treacherous schoolmistress, says Montaigne. She, little by little, slyly and unperceived, slips in the foot of her authority; but, having by this gentle and humble beginning, with the benefit of time, fixed and established it, she then unmasks a furious and tyrannic countenance, upon which we have not the courage or the power so much as to lift up our eyes.

Bender, Mrs. Lida Jamison and Mrs. Lee, Moran, Reinfelder, Rule, Galt, Van Hallinger and Grove.

A SENSIBLE PRECAUTION.
Though disease cannot always be conquered, its first approach can be checked. But not only is the use of a medicinal safeguard to be recommended on the first appearance of a malady, but a wise discrimination should be exercised in the choice of remedy. For thirty years or more, Hester's Stomach Bitters have been a preserving specific for dyspepsia, fever and ague, a loss of physical stamina, liver complaint and rheumatism, and have been most emphatically endorsed by medical men as a health and strength restorative. It is indeed a wise precaution to use this as the early stages of disease, and to exercise a special counter-attack if the malady belongs to that large class to which this specific belongs. Not only is it efficacious, but pure and harmless.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.
